RELAYING THE MESSAGE

Cancer survivors, current patients and loved ones of those who have died from the disease gathered at Bronte Creek Provincial Park for the fifth annual Canadian Cancer Society Relay For Life. This year's event featured 1,600 participants, 150 volunteers and 101 survivors. It raised more than $330,000 including $40,000 from more than 360 participants representing Notre Dame Secondary School. Here, Three year old cancer survivor Sam Lack and Maddy Martin look for stones as Sam's mother tells the audience of his battle at the annual Relay For Life.
